

English Homework

Remember to read your reading book and write in your diary at least 5 times and practise your spellings before your spelling test on Friday.

Finish the sentences by adding a main clause (a whole sentence that makes sense by itself) to the subordinate clauses. Look at my example:

Although it was hot, the chocolate didn't melt.

Subordinate clause                      Main clause

When the train came round the corner, _____
_____.

As the snail started to move, _____
_____.

Even though it was made of chocolate, _____
_____.

Extension: Can you underline the subordinating conjunctions?
